DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 6/17/2010 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 2-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Laciamera et al. (US 6279779 B1; hereinafter Laciamera) in view of Hess, III et al. (US 6131806 A; hereinafter Hess) and Wald (US 5564622 A).

Regarding claims 2, 3 and 7, Laciamera teaches a dispensing structure incorporating a valve containing fitment for mounting to a container comprising a cap (17) on a packaging container and an area for pre-laminated hole sealed by film (9), a spout portion (15) of a cylindrical shape integrally molded with the flange (19) approximately at an angle so as to be upright substantially (see Fig. 4), and a cylindrically shaped movable ring (2) and cutter (18) for piercing the film (Col 5 lines 15-25). Laciacara lacks a spout closure comprising a movable ring for piercing said film seal of the closure; said spout mounted on a tilted wall yet oriented parallel to a vertical sidewall.

Hess teaches a dispensing structure wherein the spout is mounted on a forward tilted upper wall (336).

Wald teaches a reusable device having a pour spout for cartons having gable tops wherein the spout comprises a frame body (11), a cap (Col 4 line 57) and a cylindrically-shaped movable ring (22) for cutting open said carton. Examiner notes that the Figure 1 embodiment depicts the spout on a tilted surface of a gable top carton wherein said spout is parallel to a vertical plane (Col 4 lines 42-59). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of Applicant's invention to mount Laciacara's spout on a tilted upper front wall, as disclosed by Hess, and further to modify the spout such that it is oriented parallel to a vertical sidewall, as disclosed by Wald, while mounted on said tilted wall in order to reduce spillage (Wald; Col 1 lines 10-15).

Regarding claims 4 and 5, Laciacara, as modified above, teaches a closable opening device for sealed packages of pourable food products comprising a movable ring (Laciacara; 18) further comprising a guide groove (Laciacara; 47) in the inner circumference surface of the pouring spout part and a guide boss (Laciacara; 26) in the outer circumference surface of the movable ring so that the movable ring can move vertically when rotating with the rotation of the cap and wherein the position of the guide groove when completing the rotation is lower than that of the guide groove when starting the rotation (Laciacara; Col 7 lines 5-10).

Regarding claim 6, Laciacara, as modified above, teaches a container comprising a tamper-proof part righting against said flange part, wherein said rotation assist part engages with said tamper-proof part prior to opening so as to be disengaged easily by means of the cap rotation (Laciacara; Col 7 lines 1-5).

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments, see Pages 6-9, filed 6/17/2010, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 2-7 under USC 103(a)—Hess in view of Laciacara have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of Laciacara in view of Hess and Wald. Laciacara essentially teaches all the structure of the claimed cutter, the seal, the spout and the cap but lacks the claimed orientation. Wald and Hess, together, teach a pouring spout comprising a cutting ring disposed on a slanted gable wall; said cutting ring is parallel to a vertical wall of the container.
